SUMMARY

I am a very diligent worker and strive to complete tasks on a job. Through persevering to complete tasks when working in a group I make a team environment feel much more secure since I have a handle on things. With basic to intermediate technical skills I can complete trivial programming such as JavaScript with ease. I would prefer a job in either programming or networking in my chosen field of expertise.

PROJECTS

Personal Game List Program

Spring 2015

Class project at Mansfield University

I worked on several assignments for class that have involving NetBeans IDE. One of which involved using JUnit Testing to appropriate a list of names to conform an organized list into either a sorted order, alphabetical order, ascending order, or descending order. I have updated the file exponentially to not crash when new names are added that were not in the list initially. It can run in a matter of seconds accordingly and display these fictional names as a result.
